Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/11/2006 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 56-65, have been renumbered as 1-2, 6-7, 3-5, 8-10, respectively, are allowed.

Walberg, see Figs. 2-4, discloses a method of starting up disk drive spindle motors in an array system having disk drives organized into groups which are started up separately so as to reduce the amount of electric current required by the array disk system, said method comprising: supplying current to start up a said spindle motor, and then supplying current to additionally start up one or more of said spindle motors other than said first group said spindle motors started up initially (see Fig. 1, col. 1, lines 11-30, col. 3, lines 1-9, col. 5, lines 10-21). However Walberg does not discloses a step of supplying current to start up a group of spindle motors, which is being more than one spindle motor.

The admitted art discloses the group of motors in the array disks system (see Fig. 3 and [0007]-[0009]).

The combination of Walberg and the admitted art, discloses a method of starting up disk drive spindle motors in an array disk system as claimed in claim 56, wherein said supplying steps are performed such that a spindle motor in start-up is supplied with a start-up current, and a spindle motor at steady-state is supplied with a steady-state current that is lower than said start-up current (see Figs. 1-2, abstract, cols. 3-4).

The combination of Walberg and the admitted art, discloses a method of starting up disk drive spindle motors in an array disk system as claimed in claim 56, wherein the time between power switch-on of the overall array disk system and start of driving the spindle motors is set independently for each of the groups of the disk drives so as to prevent overlap of the initial current among the groups (see Walberg Fig. 1, col. 1).

Walberg and the admitted art disclose a method of starting up disk drive spindle motors in an array disk system as claimed in claim 61, wherein after the start-up of the first group of spindle motors.

None of the cited references disclose or suggest the reserve power of a power supply that supplies the current to the first group of spindle motors is equal to the rated capacity of the power supply minus the amount of current required for maintaining the disk drives of the first group in the steady state.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
